

Hello everyone,

I haven't sent an email around like this in a while but I wanted to get the information out as we have only just finalised the arrangements.

The Archbishop of York Stephen Cottrell is walking with Bishop Paul on Cuddy's trail which takes them through Lumley, they will be stopping at the viewing point (on the attached map it's labelled as "Wood Art Sculpture") at midday on Saturday 28th October, they will be stopping for a chat there for about 15 minutes and then walking onto Finchale Abbey. Everyone from our four congregations and beyond is very welcome to join us at the viewing point and the walk beyond. I'll be making arrangements to leave my car at Finchale abbey so can help with ferrying people back to cars at the viewing point. I've heard wonderful things about ++Stephen. And if possible I'd encourage you to be early as we'll be working to their timetable on the pilgrimage their walking. It may also be the last time Bishop Paul visits our group of churches before his retirement in February.

Any questions don't hesitate to ask.

Thanks
John
